Vuelo Investments Acquires Northern Colorado Air, Inc.

FORT COLLINS, Colo. (December 12, 2024) — An investment group managed by Northern Colorado based Vuelo Investments proudly announces the acquisition of Northern Colorado Air, Inc. (NCA), a trusted heating and air services provider founded in 1992. NCA will continue to operate under its established name, with all management and team members remaining in their roles to ensure seamless service and quality to the company’s customers.

Specializing in home, residential, and commercial services, NCA has built a reputation for excellence in Northern Colorado. Roy (“Griff”) and Joyce Griffin, founders of NCA, expressed their confidence in Vuelo Investments’ stewardship of the business.

As the long-time General Manager of NCA, Jeff Richard shared his excitement about Griff and Joyce’s selection of Vuelo Investments as the buyer. “I know the long-term well-being of the employees was their primary consideration as they pursued a sale of the business. They spent years growing this business and we all couldn’t be more thrilled to find a local buyer in Vuelo Investments. Vuelo has long demonstrated an unwavering commitment to employees as well as the community, and there is confirmation that the company and employees are in great hands.”

Josh Guernsey, Managing Partner of Vuelo Investments, emphasized the alignment between the values of both organizations and NCA’s strong foundation.

“Northern Colorado Air is built on such a solid foundation, earning a reputation for doing things the right way,” said Guernsey. “We couldn’t be more excited to carry forward the legacy that Griff and Joyce have crafted. With a talented team at NCA, their business is a perfect complement to Vuelo’s growing family of companies.”

This acquisition underscores Vuelo Investments’ mission of fostering local businesses, supporting employees, and contributing to the investment and economic growth of the Northern Colorado community.
